

AUSTIN ATLANTIC FUNDS
CALENDAR YEAR 2022

INCOME FROM U.S. GOVERNMENT OBLIGATIONS

During the calendar year, certain funds invested in securities issued by the United States government or other federal agencies (collectively, "U.S. Government Securities"). Under federal law, the interest on these securities is exempt from state taxation. Certain states also exempt from state income tax the dividend income a mutual fund shareholder receives that is derived from the fund's investment in these U.S. Government Securities.

The table below provides the percentages of calendar year 2022 ordinary income dividends derived from investments in U.S. Government Securities. To determine the amount which may be exempt from state income tax multiply the amount reported in box 1a of Form 1099-DIV by the total percentage of the first two columns in the table below.

California, Connecticut, and New York require that a mutual fund maintain certain minimum investments in U.S. Government Securities in order for the dividend income derived from these obligations to be exempt from state income tax. None of the funds listed below met these requirements for calendar year 2022.

163(j) INTEREST DIVIDEND

The Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) have finalized regulations that permit regulated investment companies (RICs) to pass through interest income to corporate shareholders for purposes of determining such corporations' interest expense limitation under section 163(j). The final regulations provide a RIC's corporate shareholders with interest income rather than ordinary dividend income, potentially increasing the amount of interest expense the shareholders can deduct under the new limits implemented by the 2017 tax legislation commonly referred to as the "Tax Cuts and Jobs Act."

Listed below are the percentages of total ordinary income distributed by the funds during the 2022 calendar year (Box 1a Total on Form 1099) that can be treated as a 163(j) Interest Dividend.

FUND	163(j) INTEREST DIVIDEND
AAMCO Ultra-Short Financing Fund	99.97%
Large Cap Equity Fund	1.89%
